

Canadian Westinghouse expanded its capacity for manufacturing atomic fuels and reactor components in 1969. Exotic metals are used in nuclear products such as calandria tube, above. The tubes hold atomic fuel bundles which power reactors.

- 30 -

WESTINGHOUSE PHOTO

Westinghouse
ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES — SS
REPRODUCTION SECTION
CWCo. Photo No. A166

